

Monday

SPIDER: To me, poetry is when morning dew glistens.

Tuesday

SQUIRREL: Poetry is when crisp leaves crunch.

Wednesday

CHIPMUNK: Poetry is a home with many windows in an old stone wall.

Thursday

FROG: Poetry is a cool pool to dive into.

Friday

TURTLE: I think poetry is sun-warmed sand.

Saturday

CRICKET: Singing at twilight when the day is done.

Saturday night

OWL: Poetry is bright stars in the branches, moonlight on the grass, and silent wings to take me wherever I go.

Morning dew glistens,
Crisp leaves crunch,
There's a home with many windows
In the old stone wall.
Cool pools to dive in,
Sun-warmed sand to lie in,
Singing at twilight when the day is done.
Bright stars in the branches,
Moonlight on the grass,
And silent wings to take me wherever I go.

VOCABULARY	CHARACTERS
Surprise glistens crisp crunch cool dive shade bright whisper	Daniel Spider Squirrel Chipmunk Frog Turtle Cricket Owl Dragonfly